Councillors of the Midvaal Local Municipality recently presented the De Deur Police Station with a ceiling fan for their newly renovated "Victim Friendly Facility". The facility was revamped to create an environment where victims of various crimes could feel safe and comfortable.

Senior Superintendent Sonja Slabbert of De Deur Police Station is exceedingly proud of what the station has achieved to date and the support that it has received from the municipality and community alike. "The involvement of the municipality and the community at De Deur is without doubt one of the biggest achievements from a crime prevention perspective."

The support from the municipality and the community has been phenomenal. "Through active engagement with the community and hard work, we have turned the situation around. Today we have incredible community support and buy-in, with over 220 community patrollers and volunteers who give of their time freely and without reward." explained Snr Supt Slabbert.

Midvaal's Councillors noted that it is critical as government to get involved in community issues and provide much needed assistance wherever possible.
